

Beth McCluskey BIOGRAPHY

Beth McCluskey has more 20 years' experience in the transportation industry in Illinois.

She began her career in local government transportation planning and programming with the Council of Mayors in West Cook County. Beth then moved on to Metra, Chicago's commuter rail system, as Department Head for Capital Program Development. From commuter transit to regional oversight, she led capital programming and grant administration at the Regional Transportation Authority.

Recently, Beth was the Director of the Office of Intermodal Project Implementation at the Illinois Department of Transportation where she led a variety of statewide transit, rail and aeronautics projects and programs.

In March of 2019, Beth joined AECOM as an Associate Vice President and Director of Business Development for Transit and Rail in the Central Region.

Beth has an undergraduate degree in Business Management from Eastern Illinois University and a Master of Public Administration from the University of Illinois at Chicago.

Beth is an active member of the Women's Transportation Seminar, Greater Chicago Chapter, was co-chair for the 2015 International WTS Conference, and in 2016 was awarded the Woman of the Year honor.
